Me: SO Mr. Colombus how do you think of yourself?

Columbus: I think of myself as a successful guy I discovered America!

Me: Well actually you didn't because people were here before you

Columbus: Yes, but I claimed it first and the Native Americans did not

Me: But still you can't just come here and say you discovered it if you didn't that is cheating.

Columbus: NO anymore questions?

Me: I hear that you have kidnapped a lot of people is it true?

Columbus: I don't call it kidnapping I call it taking people for a free long journey and never coming back.

Me: So it is true? Have you ever killed anybody?

Columbus: Yes and I only killed people because they needed a permanent punishment. I also kidnapped them to teach them Spanish.

Me: Okay, but why did you travel anyways?

Columbus: Because I wanted to discover another place and I wanted to rule.

Me: What did you first do when you arrived with the Native Americans?

Columbus: I ordered the Native Peoples to become Christians.

Me: What did you do after?

Columbus: Like I said "After befriendng the Indians" I kidnapped a few to teach them Spanish

Me: Did you find any women

Columbus: I flirted with them and Brothers and Dads got mad so kidnapped them too. That is all I'm telling you!

Me: Well thank you
